

SCHOLA BIOTHEORETICA XVIII

THEORY OF DISEASE

Preface (M. Viikmaa)	5
K. Põldvere. The Disease	6
V. Parve. The first paradigm of the concept of disease	8
R. Birkenfeldt. Disease and risk factors	13
T. Hakulinen. Statistical models in modern epidemiology	16
K. Kull. Introduction into the mathematic epidemiology	26
T. Remmelkoor, S. Kuuse. The changes of immune system in the postnatal development	28
A. Veske. The role of immune system in the etiology and pathogenesis of psychic-mental diseases	31
S. Veromann. The possible autoimmune genesis of cataract	34
U. Kokassaar. Pathogenic microfungi as disease factors	36
T. Gross. Prion diseases	41
R.-H. Mikelsaar. Hydrogen bond - the basic support for health	48
M. Vliikmaa. Sickle cell anemia: a classical molecular disease	50
S. Veromann. The granular-cell tumor is an ectopic lens tumor A hypothesis	54
T. Talvi. Malformations of limbs and their origin in amphibians	56
R. Viir. A collusion of the sceleron of macroscopic and microscopic forms of life with gravitation - an important factor in the correlation of health and disease	59
A. Soosaar. May the intellect fall ill?	61
A. Paju. Some historical aspects of psychosomatics	64
K. Kull. Bernhard Fischer's book "Vitalismus und Pathologie"	65
V. Reeben. The role of Descartes-Leibniz-Baer's world-view in the understanding of health and disease	69
A. Turovski. Ecopathology	71
M. Remmel. On the science pathology	72

8100